ASCS TODAY

By Tom Conrad

Foreign Farmland Investors - Foreigners who own or have a financial interest in more than one acre of U.S. farmland or who gross more than $1000 from any plot of U.S. land must report their holdings to the ASCS office.

Aliens who owned farmland before February must report by August 1, 1979 and those acquiring land after February 1 must report the transfer within 90 days.

Reporting forms are available in the ASCS office for this purpose. If you are classified as a foreign investor, please call or stop by the ASCS office before the final reporting date. Failure to report could result in a fine of up to 25 percent of the property's assessed value.

Fire and Sun-Cured Tobacco Leasing - June 1 is the final date for fire and sun-cured tobacco producers to lease tobacco to or from the farm for the 1979 crop year. if you have not completed your leasing intentions, you are urged to do so just as soon as possible.

For those producers that want to lease to or from the farm, there is bulletin board space at the ASCS office for leasing intentions. If you want to post intention or inspect intentions already posted, you need to stop by the ASCS office.

Reporting Planted Acreages - There are currently 118 farms in Appomattox County signed up in the set-aside program. In order for these farms to remain eligible, they will need to certify to their planted acreages. The final date for certifying to corn and set-aside acreage is June 30. Soybean and grain sorghum producers have until July 15 to certify. By not certifying, a farmer will automatically eliminate his or her farm from the program which will mean ineligibility for disaster payments, deficiency payments and commodity loans.

For farms that are not enrolled in the set-aside program ASCS asks the operators to also certify to crop acreages. This request is so that ASCS records can be kept up to date for future reference.

Fire, flue and sun-cured tobacco producers are reminded that their planted acreages must be certified by June 30. Failure to certify will mean no price support.

Aerial Observation - ASCS will do its summer compliance work by aerial observation this year. Set-aside and sun tobacco farms will be done by a random check method. All flue and fire-cured tobacco farms with an effective allotment will be measured.

Set-aside farms, plus fire and sun tobacco farms will be able to adjust any excess acreage and still be eligible for program benefits or price support, whichever is applicable.

Flue tobacco farms will not be allowed to adjust excess acreage and still retain price support.

Due to these regulations, it is recommended that farmers who are unsure of planted acreages should consider measurement service. If you desire measurement service, you should stop by the ASCSoffice to file an application.

HAPPINESS IS 4-H

Twenty-eight Appomattox 4-H'ers participated in last Saturday's Area Junior Contest at Appomattox Middle School. An additional eight Junior 4-H'ers also participated in Meats Judging and Soils Judging programs.

About 60 4-H'ers have signed up for camp. Applications may be turned in until early July. A list of camp classes will be sent in the near future to those 4-H'ers signing up.

Recognized At Extension Conference

BLACKSBURG - Twelve individuals and the Nelson County Extension unit were honored by the Virginia chapter of Epsilon Sigma Phi, national Extension honorary fraternity, during the annual Extension conference at Virginia Tech.

Those receiving the Outstanding Individual awards from Frances H. Graham of Roanoke, president-elect of Epsilon Sigma Phi, were Lawrence W. Boitnott, Roanoke County Extension agent; Fannie C. Coker, Suffolk Extension agent; Charlie A. Elliott, East Central District Extension 4-H agent, Appomattox; R. S. Ellis, retired Buckingham County Extension agent; Sallie W. Gochenour, Shenandoah County Extension agent.

Also, Betty J. Moore, Lee County Extension agent; Fan G. Panton, Suffolk Extension agent; Robert K. Reynolds, Virginia Tech Extension specialist in agricultural economics; Evans R. Scyphers, Smyth County Extension agent; John F. Shoulders, Virginia Tech Extension specialist in turf; Eugene W. Taylor, Accomack County Extension agent; and Shirley W. Walton, Appomattox County Extension agent.

The Nelson County Extension unit, headed by Hughes C. Swain, is composed of Carolyn T. Albritton, Wanda T. Floyd. Edith O. Friend, Betty J. Minton and Shirley A. Robinson.

Boitnott was recognized for his innovations in presenting horticulture programs to the citizens of the Roanoke Valley. His gardening by mail, radio show, weekly garden tips newsletter and weekly columns in the RoanokeTimes-World News are important sources of information in the Roanoke Valley.

Mrs. Coker was recognized for her outstanding Extension education programs in housing and food nutrition. Following a random survey in four major supermarkets, she organized 30 diet, exercise and behavior sessions in cooperation with the Suffolk Health Department, Social Service Bureau, hospital and practicing physicians to reduce obesity.

Elliott was cited for his knowledge and leadership abilities in administering and supervising agents who work in 4-H in the East Central District. He also was recognized for his many roles in furthering the professional development among 4-H workers in Virginia and the South.

Ellis, who retired in 1965, has devoted many hours to personal visitation of businesses and industry on behalf of the Holiday Lake 4-H Center expansion program. To many Buckingham County citizens, he still is known as "Mr. Extension."

Mrs. Gochenour was cited for her success in developing a large cadre of skilled volunteers to provide leadership to the Extension homemaker and other family resource programs. She is an expert in utilizing the county's human resources in the implementation of Extension education programs.

Miss Moore was recognized for her professional leadership in Lee County, demonstrating the need for an Extension home economist. It was the first in the county in 30 years. A highlight of the current year was a five-day course in housing and energy which 35 persons to each session.

Mrs. Panton was cited for her "ability to recognize the potential of the people with whom she works and encourage development of that potential." The Decorama of 1977 demonstrated her ability to organize coworkers and 400 volunteers in a two-day exhibition of 51 educational exhibits, 18 classes, fashion shows and interior design demonstrations which drew more than 4,000 persons.

Elliott, center, receives congratulations from Youtha B. Turner, left, program committee chairman, and Frances H. Graham, chapter president.

Walton, center, receives congratulations from Youtha B. Turner, left, program committee chairman, and Frances H. Graham, chapter president.

Vacation Bible School New Hope Baptist

June 17, 1979 - June 21, 1979
6:30 p.m. - 9:15 p.m.
Come one - Come All.

Last week we told a little about what the pre-school and younger children will be doing. This week we will tell what older children, grades 4, 5, and 6, will be doing.

Grade 4 will be learning facts about Jesus' twelve disciples and in learning, they will be sharing their feelings and attitudes as to how the truths they learn about Jesus' special helpers apply to their individual lives. The teachers are Gloria and Cecil Deaner.

Grade 5 will be studying the unit titled "Disciples of Jesus". This unit is designed to teach pupils who Jesus called to be his followers and how he selected them. The children will learn how the disciples served Jesus and others and how they can become followers of Jesus today. There will be many fun and interesting projects and lots of exciting games. The teachers, Mary Ellen Watson and Rose Anthony, invite all 5th graders who want to have fun and learn alot, to come and join the fun at VBS.

Grade 6 children will be studying in the book "Disciples of Jesus." They will learn who Jesus called to be his twelve disciples and how he selected them. They will discover how they can become followers of Jesus themselves. The teachers are Faye Tucker and Judy Taylor.

There will be refreshments every night as well as a real learning experience of the Bible for everyone.

GRAND OPENING AT PARADISE LAKE was held over the Memorial Day week end. Completely remodeled and under new management of the Rileys and the O'Donnells, the turn out was terrific, especially for camping. Children enjoyed hay rides most of all but some brave ones did go swimming in spite of the cold weather. In addition to camping and swimming facilities, you can enjoy boating and/or canoeing, a snack bar, game room, pony rides, hay rides, and fishing . . something for the entire family. Reservations are now being taken for the Fourth of July week end holiday for camp sites. A covered dish supper an a fish fry will highlight the activities of the week end of July Fourth.

terms of office. They feel this is necessary to continue the smooth operation of our county government.

Dr. Lawson served four years in the U. S. Navy, graduated in 1952 from Lynchburg College and received his degree in 1956 from the Medical College of Virginia School of Dentistry. He began his dental practice in Appomattox in July of 1956. He has served as a member of the Appomattox Town Council and served two terms of office as Mayor of the Town of Appomattox. He is presently serving as a Commissioner representing Appomattox County on the Central Virginia Planning District Commission.

"I have enjoyed being a small part of our local board and representing our citizens during the past four years," Lawson said, "and if the voters from the Southside District see fit to elect me again, I can only promise to do my best at all times to represent all of the citizens of Appomattox County as I have tried to do during the past four years.

"It has been a pleasure," he continued, "to have worked with so many citizens throughout our county and I look forward to having the opportunity to represent and serve you in any way that I can."

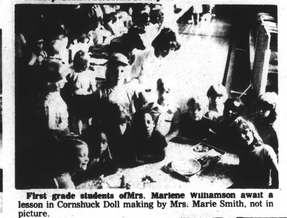
Concord Senior Citizens showed students the old crafts. Shown here are Mrs. Cecil Shull (knitting), Mildred Roberts (crocheting), and Mary McIvor and Joe Booth (weaving mats.).

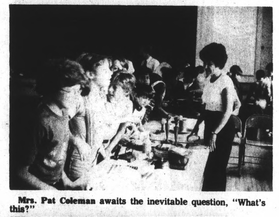
Mrs. Ruth Bennett and Mrs. Louise Miles of the Sheltered Workshop facinated students as they wove reed baskets.

Mrs. Merle Singleton and Mrs. Barbra Metz show how butter was made in churns. Later, students were treated to a sample of the homemade butter on bread.

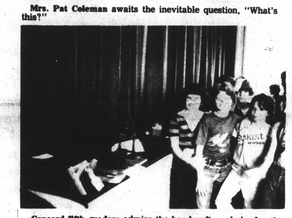
Mrs. Merlyn Carroll shows an old harness. She explained the use of many of the old and antique items brought in.



First grade students ofMrs. Marlene Williamson await a lesson in Cornshuck Doll making by Mrs. Marie Smith, not in picture.



Mrs. Pat Coleman awaits the inevitable question, "What's this?"



Concord fifth graders admire the handcraft made by fourth graders.

Pioneer Day Held At Concord School

Pioneer Day was held last Tuesday at Concord School. The fourth grade students had completed a unit of study on pioneer life and, most especially, Concord area history.

They interviewed Concord citizens to learn how Concord was different when they were young, why their families settled there, and what they liked about Concord. They learned that most families settled there because of the good farm land and most people liked the neighborly feeling in that area. They also made project booklets including reports of famous pioneers, simple research on what interested them most about pioneer life and reports on places they visited with their families, such as Mabry Mill, Appomattox Court House National Park and Booker T. Washington's home. Many students made miniature log houses and fences, covered wagons and quilts.

At the display they learned about the items which were brought in and, in many cases, got to try holding them or using them.

The three fourth grade teachers are Sue Hahn, Jeanette Jones and Sandra Johnston.

Elon Baptist Plans VBS Parade

Elon Baptist Church in Pamplin will sponsor a PARADE on Sunday, June 17, in preparation for Vacation Bible School. Each Sunday School class will prepare and decorate a float to enter in the parade. Prizes will be awarded to the most creative floats.

The parade will begin at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the Pamplin Elementary School and conclude at downtown Pamplin with a Big Party for all who turn out. Moms and dads are encouraged to bring their children to see the parade and to join in the fun afterwards.

The Party in downtown Pamplin will feature ice cream; sno-cones, games, rides, and lots more! Watch the Times - Virginian next week for an ad giving full details.

During the PARTY children will have the opportunity to pre-register for Elon's Vacation Bible School, which will be held the week of June 18-22, 9 til noon each day.

Parents and children alike are invited to join in the fun and festival on Parade Day, June 17. What nicer way to spend Father's Day?

FOR SALE: Rubber Stamps and Stamp Pads at the Times Virginian. Phone 352-8215 for fast service.
